Sherman's Tactics in the South Logan Harris in N. Y. Times.

RALKIGH, N. C., January 23,—The Republican State committee, consisting of Thomas B Keogh, chairman; W P Cannady, collector of the port at Wilmington; J J Mott, collector of internal revenue; Pinkney Rollins, clerk in the lean division of the Treasury at Washington; J H Harris, who is said to have received some appointment Washington; J H Harris, who is eaid to have received some appointment from the Treasury within the last few days; C W Grandy, D A Jenkins, O Hubbs, L W Humphrey and D H Starbuck, met here to-day. Mr Keogh resigned as chairman, and it was then ascertained that Secretary Sherman had control of the committee. C W Grandy, an outspoken Sherman man, was elected chairman. Messrs. Keogh, Hubbs, Jenkins and Humphrey were for Grant, and the fight was made be-Hubbs, Jenkins and Humphrey were for Grant, and the fight was made between Grant and Sherman. The latter won by six votes to four, and Cannady, Starbuck, Harris, and Rufus Barrisger, of Charlotte—all Sherman men—were elected delegates at large to Chicago. It was discovered this morning that the officeholders above named had succeeded in gaining over Starbuck and Grandy for Sherman; and the charge was openly made that Harris held some appointment from the Treasury Department, and that this had changed him from a stalwart Grant man to a supporter of Sherman. Upon investisupporter of Sherman. Upon investigation it was found that the State had been for three months past overrun with Special Agents appointed by Sec-retary Sherman at six do' a s per day, for the purpose of seeing the members of the committee and controlling it in his interest. Rollins was granted leave and was here in person advocating Sherman's claims. Two weeks ago, one Kilparick, an agent of the secret service of the Treasury Department, was through here working in Sherman's interests. He saw the leading Republicans, and went to Greensboro and labored with Colo-nel Keogh for three days. Joseph C. Abbott, who is a Special Agent of the Treasury Department, has been visiting various portions of the State, seeing membars of the committee. He went to Winston, and by some means fixed Starbuck, who, until this visit, had been a strong Grant man. Abbott also went to Newbern, to see and fix Hubbs, but Hubbs proved incorruptable R. B. Elliott, of South Carolina, another Special Agent of the Treasury, was here to see the matter well done. It is openly boasted that by the same tactics the Sherman men expect to carry 5 of the 8 Congressional districts—no conventions in the district will be called. The district committees will be called.
The district committees will appoint the delegates, the appointments as Special Agents are to be freely used to control them. Great indignation is felt at this bold and unwarranted misrepresentation of the Republicans of the State. There are not a dozen Shorman men in the State who are not office-holders. There is strong talk of office-holders. There is strong talk of calling a State Convention and of send-

Carolina. It is possible that indignation meetings will be called to protest against the State being voted for Sherman, and to give vent to the almost unminous wish that Grant shall be hominated. The prostitution of the Treasury Department for the ends now gained, and the misappropriation of the public money, are denounced in unmeasured terms, and have stimulated the Democrats to renewed exertions, who fear no Republican for President's civil service order was declared of no force, service order was declared of no force, and was defied without excuse or apology: Elihu A. White, recently appointed in Sherman's interest, collector of internal revenue in place of Powers, and several other officers of the Treasury Department were on hand to see that the claims of their chief were not set aside. The voting of Cannady, Starbuck and Harris for themselves as delegates, thus taking three of the four delegates from the committee, is severely criticised.

Shall We Sell the W. N. C. Railroad Asheville Citizen, 7

We inderstand that the authorities at Raleigh have not as yet decided defi-nitely as to the course to be pursued regarding the proposition of Mr. Best to purchase and complete the W. N. C. Railroad in its entirety—that the proposition is being entertained in a modified form. We feel assured that some arrangement of this kind, satisfactory to the State, can be made, either with Mr. Best or some of the other parties now looking anxiously to the early completion of this road through our country and we have four four forms. completion of this road through our country, and we hope Gov. Jarvis and his Council will consider well before they decide against giving the Legislature an opportunity of handling the question, or be well assured that the State can and will guarantee an early completion of the entire road.

We honestly prefer the State completing the road—provisted it can be pleting the road—provided it can be done within any rememble time, and without continuing to arouse sec ional feeling between the East and the West as to the manner and means of continuing this work and prosecuting it with tha vigor necessary. We know the road would, in the future, be a source of handsome revenue to the treasury of the State reimburging her force! of the State-reimbursing her for all her outlays in the construction of this mighty work—bit the return is not in the immediate, and through many years we shall continue to hear the cry of taxation necessary to its construction. We deem harmony between all sections of the State of more importance at present their collaborations. tance at present than all things else - and this can only be attained by eliminating this whole question from the politics of the State.

If the State can and will do the work, so well and good. But, knowing the difficulties that are in the way, and knowing the deep interest felt by the people of Western Carolina in the early completion of the road to Ducktown and Paint Rock, we still earnestly hope the Governor's Council may con tinue the negotiations, agree upon guarantee satisfactory and sufficient, and agree to sell now,

We do not urge any step that will cause the sacrifice of the interests of the State—we believe her interests can be fully protected—but the people of the sulted to some extent, and not be wantonly sacrificed or ignored.

Engineer Marsh and a young machinist, Joe Gordon, who were injured by the explosion of the engine on the Western North Carolina railroad, Wednesday evening, were both improving at last accounts, and it has been found that since they recovered from the shock, neither was as seriously injured as was at first believed. Although young Gordon's eyelids were badly cut by broken pieces of the machinery, it is now thought by his physician that he will not lose his eyesight. The engine was very badly injured, and indeed is in such a condition that no effort will be made to repair it. following reasons:
On the 12th instant, a reporter for a newspaper, one E. H. Cowles, approached General W. T. Sherman, in the Headquarters of the Army, and asked his opinion of the reputation of the undersigned, explaining to General Sherman that he and some others asso-cated with him had published the undersigned as a liar; and that General Sherman's "testimony" was also desired to add to their own on that point, "to show the public what a fraud he

"to show the public what a fraud he (the undersigned) is.

In the course of the conversation which followed, in which the reporter acted in his capacity as such, General Sherman said to him, with the full understanding that what he said was so licited for publication, among other false and slanderous things of the undersigned: "He is entirely without character." "You could hire him to do anything for money." "for a thousdo anything for money;" "for a thous-and dollars he would slander his own mother;" and that he was "very persistent and energetic in manufacturing

These things being spoken to a reporter for publication, and being uttered in the presence and hearing of others, constitute the crime of slander as defined by the laws in force in the District of Columbia. Further: Four days after this conversation with this reporter, and when his printed version of the interview with General Sherman had arrived in Washington, the undersigned, feeling confident that however severely General Sherman might criticize the review of his Memoirs by the undersigned, of which he was more particularly speak-ing to the reporter he would not so far forget what belonged to his high office, as to use language at once so coarse, so false, and so unofficerlike, therefore called the a tention of General Sherman, in writir g, to the reporter's article, and asked if the words attributed to him were correctly stated.

Gen. Sherman replied, endorsing them in language in some respects still more gross than that to which his attention had been called.

This letter he caleacurently exhibited This letter he subsequently exhibited to others, by which exhibition he again violated the laws relating to the crime of

As this second offence was committed As this second offence was committed in cool moments, and when even the poor excuse of sudden heat developed by a discussion with the reporter Cowles of the criticisms of his Memoirs did not exist, there was but one course left to a man claiming to possess a good character among his fellows, and that was to give General Sherman an opportunity to exhibit the grounds for his grave assertions. The undersigned therefore gave him notice through the press that he would in due time select a press that he would in due time select a tribunal and a form of action, which, iribunal and a form of action, which, without inflicting any personal indignity upon the General of the Army, would afferd him ample opportunity to prove the truth of his charges, and in case of his failure would place him before the public as a reckless slanderer. His offence was of a character that made him fully liable to arrest as a common criminal and arraignment before the Police Court of this District, a tribunal where the varied representafore the Police Court of this District, a tribunal where the varied representa-tives of the dangerous and the wicked classes of the Capital stand on a com-mon level for hearing and punishment. He might have been proceeded against on the criminal side of the Su-Spreme Court of this District; but here again respect for the honorable office which Gen. Sherman holds might well restrain any citizen from initiating proceedings which would arraign him

The undersigned has therefore concluded to afford General Sherman the opportunity of asking for a court which if called, must, of necessity, be made up of officers high in rank and possessing the acceptance of the confidence of sessing the respect and confidence of the public. It would also be a court wherein the General of the Army would have every advantage which high rank and extended fame could give. Not the least of these advantages would be the opportunity of relieving himself of the burden of proof.

The undersigned therefore respect-fully requests that General Sherman may be given an opportunity of asking to appear before such a tribunal, to make good his charges, to clear himself from the above direct allegations of crime, and also to establish, if he can, the accuracy, the fairness, and the justness of his "Memoirs," for criticising which it, the light of the official re-

How the Property Man Almost Missed a Meal. In the "good old days" at the Hay-market Theater they were running the musical farce of "No Song, No Sup-per," and the exigencies of the piece required a real boiled leg of mutton every night, which, according to the laws of "property," or rather the property man's law in a theater, went after performance almost untouched to the official named. But the "flymen" perched up aloft did not like this, which occurred night after night, to their growing dissatisfaction, for they, too, had wives and families to whom a boned leg of mutton free of charge boned leg of mutton free of charge would have been a thing to be remembered. So they hit upon a plan, and one night Mr. Wm. Farren, who had the carving of the aforesaid leg, was solicited to fix a hook that would be let down from the "flies into the mutton and leave the rest to them." Farren, always ready for a practical joke, consented at once, and, as the scene was coming to a termination, deftly fastened the hook into the leg and "teft the rest to them. As the scene shifters were preparing to "close in." and the were preparing to "close in," and the property man stood at the wings, ready to seize on his perquiste, the leg of mutton was seen slowly to ascend without any visible agency. The audience laughed, my father (who as "Endles," was watching the maneuver from his sack) laug'e, too, and the employes all gave vent to their feelings in ill-suppressed merriment—all save the property man, who remained miserably serious, and gazed at his fast departing supper with a woe-begone countenance. Suddenly, as the scene was almost closed in, the hock which Farren had

MR: JEWETT'S CANDIDACY. Anti-Tilden Democrata Favor His Nomination for President-What Is Said of the Movement.

The rumor of a movement to bring out the Hon. Hugh J. Jewett as a can-didate for President created a good deal of talk in political circles on Friday. The Anti-Tilden Democrats seemed to look with favor upon the project, but it was a common remark among them the movement was premature, and that a scheme to crowd the old stand-by candidates off the track with a business man like Mr. Jewett ought not to be developed until just before the National Convention meets. Mr. Jewett's ability and sturdy old-

Mr. Jewett's ability and sturdy out-fashioned Democracy were admitted on all sides. Republicans said that he would have many strong points as a candidate, but they would all be coun-terbalanced by the fact that he stands in close relations with the great railroad interests of the country. A capitalist and railway king would, they thought, be the wrong sort of a candidate to gain be the wrong sort of a candidate to gain popularity with the Communistic ele-ments that contribute a considerable portion of the Democratic vote. White he would, no doubt, hold back many conservative business men from de-serting their party, he would dull the ardor of the rank and file in the country districts, and drive off thousands of the "unwashed" in the great cities.

Mr. Jewett had a promient career in Democratic politics before he engaged in railway business. He was District Attorney of the Southern District in Ohio under Bu hanan. In 1861 he was the Democratic candidate for Governor and was hadin hearan by havid Test. and was badly beaten by David Tod.

A special dispatch from Dublin is as follows:
Much feeling has been aroused by the action of the Duke of Marlborough, in refusing to dine at the Lord Mayor's banquet on the 3rd of February next. banquet on the 3rd of February next. During forty years there has been no occasion when the Viceroy has failed to attend the inaugural banquet. Even when O'Connell was Lord Mayor and antagonizing the government, in 1841, Earl De Grey, the Tory Viceroy, attended. The reason of the Duke of Marlborough's refusal is that the Lord Mayor presided at a meeting of Irish members on the 19th inst., supporting The O'Donoghue.

The Viceroy's letter says: "My Lord, I observe that in your official capacity as Lord Mayor you presided at a public meeting held in the City Hall, at which resolutions were passed in relation to the West of Ireland, to schemes of enforcement, and to the measures which Her Majesty's Gevernment have taken for the relief of the distress existing in parts of the country. I regret that the character of the resolutions will prevent me from having the honor of dining at the Mansion House on the 3d of next month, as it would not be in my power either to ignore them when they have received your official sanction, or to make observations upon them while accepting your Lordship's hospitality.

Horseffesh vs. Bicycle. New York Star, 26th.

A number of wealthy residents of this city are making arrangements for a somewhat novel sporting event. It is proposed to have David Stanton, Waller proposed to have David Stanton, Waller and Phillips, the famous English long distance- bicyclists, compete against thirty running horses for six days. The horses are to be ridden by Johnny Murphy and Wm. E. Weeks, the well known trainers and drivers, and Perasto, the mustang rider. Waller and Phillips, who are now in London, were telegraphed for on Thursday night, and will be in this city in the course of two or three weeks. Both men have great six-day records. Stanton has ridden one thousand miles in seventy-three ene thousand miles in seventy three hours. Their aggregate scores will amount to about four thousand five hundred miles. The horses, if the stock is of a good quality, when ridden in relays of ten miles, can very easily travel this distance. Whether their riders can hold out for six days is an present a mooted question. The race will begin at the Madison Garden on

BRIBING THE PRESIDENT.

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS OF. FERED FOR A CONTRACT.

A Notorious Case, which is Recalled to Mind by the Belease of Dr. Worms from Prison.

Philadelphia Times.

It will not be many days before the great iron doors of the Eastern Penitentiary are thrown open, and Dr. Charles Worms, a man who made himself notorious during the Centennial year, will be given his freedom again. Worms was punished severely because he had taken upon himself the stigma of being able to bribe the President of the United States. Although he did not do so, and only made a feint at attempting it, yet the thoughts of the crime were so beinous that he was given the full penalty of the law for forgery. Dr. Worms is a Canadian, and during the war he was a sutler in the Union army. After the rebellion he hung about the West, and while in Chicago he fell in with a young man who desired to get a contract from the Government. Worms told this person the only way to get the contract would be to do like every one else—send the President some money. Finally it was agreed that $5,000 should be sent to President Grant to purchase his influence. Worms left Chicago and went to Washington to arrange the details, as he said, and then sent for the young man to meet him in this city. Everything was left in charge of the Doctor, because he represented that he had great influence with the Administration, and that the money and negotiations could only ochandled by him, lest the President might take offence.

The man who was to put up the mon-Government. Worms told this person

The man who was to put up the mon-ey did not have the sum, -but he bor-rowed it of his father, representing it to be for some other purpose. He came to Philadelphia, where he met the Doctor. Here he was shown what pur-posted to he are agreement between the ported to be an agreement between Secretary Chandler and Dr. Worms, Secretary Chandler and Dr. Worms, binding the Secretary to do just as the Doctor directed. Everything seemed lovely and the man thought he had the contract right in his grasp. But "a fool and his money are soon parted," and this case proved no exception. At length it was decided to send the money, so five $1,000 bills were handed over to Dr. Worms, and in the presence of the young man he placed them in an envelope ready directed and prepared for "His Excellency U. S. Grant, President of the United States."

ident of the United States."

Just here is where the trick came in. on his coat he quickly slipped the envelope containing the money into his pocket and pulled out instead another envelope, directed in the same manner and bearing every evidence of being the identical envelope. This contained four slips of white paper.

"Now, come," said the Doctor: "you accompany me to the post office and see that the letter is mailed."

and the letter was dropped into the box. A few days after, Private Secre-tary General Babcock, upon opening the President's mail, discovered the envelope with the five pieces of blank paper. He could not divine what it meant, but kept his own counsel, and his ears open. It was not long before the young man came along and wanted to know whether the President had rec ived his money. He then related the whole transaction. At once the man was informed that he had been duped, and that only five pieces of white paper had been received. Then the authori-ties had an idea that the money had been abstracted somewhere in the Post Office Department, and made a thorough investigation, but to no purpose. The matter was laid before President Grant, and he declared that Worms, who had ned, should be found and punished.
After a tedious run he was found in Canada and extradited. He was brought to this country, and for a time it was not known what to do with him; but at last United States District Attorney John K. Valentine had the case referred to him, and he promptly caused a bill of indictment to be found against the man for the forging of the name of Secretary Chandler. The prosecution was conducted with great skill, and the case excited comment all over the case excited comment all over the country. On the 1st of August, 1876, Dr. Worms was sentenced to four years imprisonment and $1,000 fine. He has served out the term of imprisonment. and last week a petition was circulated asking for his pardon from the fine. This was the second pardon asked for, and Mr. Valentine opposed both. The Doctor declared his inability to pay the $1,000, so he will remain in the Penitentiary the thirty days prescribed by law, when he will take the benefit of the Insolvent Debtors' act and be set free.
It is not believed he will try to bribe

THE New York Commercial Bulleti claborately discusses the proposed Isthmus of Panama canal from a commercial standpoint. It concludes that " with 3 000 000 of tonnage to cross the Istlimus-which is all that could be safely anticipated for some years to come-and an average of $2 per ton for tolls, no enterprise could escape positive loss that undertook to link the oceans with an outlay of more than $75,000,-000; but M. de Lesseps proposes to spend three to four times that sum, and there is perhaps no other scheme that could provide a canal for less than double that amount."

THE Established Church in England is administed by two archbishops, twenty-eight bishops, four suffragan bishops, thirty deans, seventy-four archdecons, six hundred and ten rural deans, and twenty-three thousand clergy of all classes, one-fifth of whom have no parochial charge. The yearly incomes range in the higher grades from £15,000, paid to the Archbishop of Canterbury, to £2,400 to the Bishop of Sodos and Man. One thousand pounds a year is the deaconal average. There are sixteen thousand churches. The income of the Established Church is eight million pounds per annum, and the church population thirteen million. In Ireland there are two archbishops, ten bishops, one thousand two hundred and thirtyeight benefices, and two thousand clergy. The church going population is seven hundred and fifty thousand.

It is dangerous for millionaires to interlard their conversation with quotations from the poets. That is, dangerous not so much to themselves personally as to the beneficiaries under their last wills and testaments. In the hear ing upon the Lewis will case, now pending in New York, a witness, being examined as to the mental soundness of the deceased, remarked that he had heard bim talk very queer sometimes, and that he used to quote Shakspeare. At first sight it would seem difficult, by any amount of legal ingenuity, to establish a presumption of insanity or susceptibility to undue infldence from a circumstance of this character. The application will perhaps be found in the incongruousness with the eternal fitness of things of a practical business man dabbling with the Bard of Avon.

THE year 1880 will be memorable in naval and commercial annals for the promulgation of a new code of sea signals and road rules. Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, Austria, Italy, the Netherlands, Sweden, Denmark, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, Greece, Chili and our own country have agreed to these rules, which includes, besides signaling with colored lights, a set of blasts from the steam whistle or fog horn, whose numbers and length of duration talk plainly. For example, a steamer sighting any vessel gives one short blast to denote that she is keeping to starboard, two if she is keeping to port, and three if she is going astern. Other blasts have fixed meanings. The new rules should help to diminish the number of disastrous collisions which have been steadily increasing with the increase of ship-

KING ALFONSO, if the London Globe is to be believed, is the most unpopular man in Spain. The Globe finds some difficulty in explaining why this is so. The populace, it declares, are guilty of the greatest contradictions in their abuse of their monarch, complaining, at one time, that he is a miser and does not keep up the dignity of the Spanish throne by disbursing a sufficiency of funds like his ancestors, and again, that royalty is too expensive for a poor country like Spain. The truth of the matter is, that there are no friendly relations between the people and the King. The latter is the mere tool of a few autocrats, who hold the reins of power and allow Alfonso to play puppet. While taxes and peculation increase, salaries are unpaid, and mismanagement is everywhere visible. The recent attempt at the life of the King is a fair example of the state of feeling in Spain. The sentiment in that ceuntry is now decidedly Republican. The Spaniards are the nearest neighbors of France, and they cannot but see how that country is prospering under a republic. They believe what is good for France is good for Spain also, and that if a change is made in their government it would leave the two countries-Spain and France-arbiters of Europe. This feeling, it is said, has increased rather than fallen of: since the ceremonies attendant upon the King's marriage, and sooner or later will break out in some public demonstration that will retire Alfonso, like his mother, into private

A Chatham Wedding in the Road. Chatham Record.

A marriage recently took place in one of the public roads of this county under the following circumstances. It seems that the parents of an expectant bride objected to her marrying the man of her choice, and remembering the old saying, "Out of sight out of mind," they thought the lovers would forget each other if separated. So the stern parents of the young lady sent her in extle to the residence of a relative living in the adjoining county of Moore, but quite near the Chatham line. But the love of this unfortunate eouple burned with two fierce a flame to be so easily extinguished, and the gallant hero of our tale, by dirigent inquiry, soo ascertained the whereabouts of his lady-love, and by means of an under-ground telegraph they were speedily in communication with each other. The relative, to whose house our heroine had been banished, soon sympathized with the lovers in their troubles, and a marriage was at once agreed upon. Our hero had, sometime before the banishment of his captive dulcina, procured a marriage license in this county. which of course could not be used in Moore, and so to avoid any loss of time and the expense of getting a license in the latter county, they determined to be married in Chatham. The boundary line between the counties was only about three hundred yards distant, the nearest point being the public highway. Quite a number of the neighbors were hurriedly summoned, and forming a procession, they marched to the big road, where a Chatham Magistrate met them, and so out there in this public highway with the attendants drawn up in due order was the marriage duly and decoriously solemnized. The old neighborbood fiddler was present, and most excitedly scraped out the wedding music, which so animated the bridal party that quite a lively dance took place, with the road bed for a floor and the blue heavens for a shed. It must have been a novel and amusing scene, and will doubtless be long remembered by those who saw it.

The receipts for September, 1879, were 4,072 bales 3,696 in September, 1878; October, 1879, 11,432 bales, against 12,-064 in October, 1878; November, 1879, 6,948 bales, against 6,747 in November, 1878; December, 1879, 5,912 bales, against 4,018 in December, 1878; January, 1880, 2,604 bales, against 3,279 the same month last year. It will be seen that there is an increase in this season's receipts over last of 779 bales. The receipts during the past week have been very light, owing to bad roads and the disposition of the farmers to hold back the portion of the crop not yet sold, for higher prices.

dies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the externa application of Cuticura, the Great Skin Ci re, it speedly cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMAON THE SCALP BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs Weeks & Potter: Guəlemen—I cannot refrain from ad-ing my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful Cuticura RemeDies, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good. The Cuticura has stopped this unsatusactory expense—even if it vere necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs.—of.—, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of Cutteura, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of Cutteura entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my pody were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myse f completely cured. I shall continue the UTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlo rosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenor threa, diseases of the Kidneys and Blad der and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for aic diseases.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorinea, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect. E. O. GRIGSBY, DeView, Ark. We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application.
